Consultants will be responsible for all expenses related to the fulfillment of this Agreement; provided, however, the Company will reimburse the Consultants for pre-approved, reasonable travel expenses necessarily incurred and reasonably documented during the term hereof in accordance with the Company's policies, procedures and practices.

5. Reports. The Consultants agree to keep the Company advised as to the Consultants progress in performing the Services hereunder and the Consultants will, as requested by the Company, prepare written reports with respect thereto. The time required to prepare any such written reports will be considered time devoted to the performance of the Consultants Services.

6. Conflicting Obligations. The Consultants certify that the Consultants have no outstanding agreement or obligation that conflict with any of the provisions of this Agreement. The Consultants will not enter into any agreements or obligations that would conflict with any of the provisions of this Agreement or that would preclude the Consultants from complying with the provisions hereof. In view of the Consultants access to the Company's Confidential Information, the Consultants further agrees that the Consultants will not, without Company's prior written consent, design, write, develop or otherwise create, directly or indirectly, any software or computer code that is similar in any way to that provided, developed, modified or otherwise tested and maintained under this Agreement for any third party during the term of this Agreement and for a period of two (2) years after the termination of this Agreement. Except as specifically authorized by the Company, the Consultants will not for two (2) years after the termination of this Agreement: (i) request or advise any supplier, customer or other person, firm, partnership, association, corporation or business organization, entity or enterprise having business dealings with the Company or any subsidiary or affiliate of the Company to withdraw, curtail or cancel such business dealings; or (ii) induce or attempt to influence any employee or Consultants of the Company or any subsidiary or affiliate of the Company to terminate his or her employment or consulting relationship with the Company or such subsidiary or affiliate.

7. Assignment. Neither this Agreement nor any right or obligation hereunder or interest herein may be assigned, transferred or delegated by the Consultants without the prior written consent of the Company.

8. Arbitration and Equitable Relief. The parties will attempt to promptly resolve any dispute or controversy arising out of or relating to the formation, performance or termination of this Agreement; provided, however, if the parties are unable to reach a settlement amicably, such dispute will be submitted to binding arbitration before a single arbitrator to be held in Las Vegas, Nevada, in accordance with the rules then in effect of the American Arbitration Association. Any negotiations pursuant to this paragraph 8 are confidential and will be treated as compromise and settlement negotiations for all purposes. The arbitrator may grant injunctions or other relief in such dispute or controversy. The decision of the arbitrator will be final, conclusive and binding on the parties to the arbitration. Judgment may be entered on the arbitrator's decision in any court of competent jurisdiction. The Company and the Consultants shall each pay one-half (½) of the costs and expenses of such arbitration, and each shall separately pay its respective attorneys' fees and related expenses. This arbitration provision shall be binding on all employees, agents, contractors, investors, suppliers, vendors, assigns, purchasers, and clients of the Company and the Consultants. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Company may pursue any remedies at law or in equity in the event the Consultants fails to fully perform all of the covenants and agreements herein. In the event the Company seeks injunctive relief or specific performance, the Consultants agree that no bond or other security will be required in obtaining such equitable relief and the Consultants hereby consents to the issuance of an injunction and to the ordering of specific performance.

9. Governing Law. This Agreement will be governed, construed and controlled by the laws of the State of Nevada, and the Federal Arbitration Act, the latter to control in case of conflict. Both parties consent to the jurisdiction of the state and federal courts sitting in the State of Nevada and agree that the venue for any action brought under this Agreement will be the District Court of Clark County, Nevada, or the United States District Court for the Las Vegas District of Nevada.

10. Severability If any provision of this Agreement is held invalid or unenforceable, either in its entirety or by virtue of its scope or application to given circumstances, such provision will be deemed modified to the extent necessary to render the same valid or not applicable to given circumstances or excised from this Agreement, as the situation may require, and this Agreement will be construed and enforced as if such provision had been included herein as so modified in scope or application or had not been included herein, as the case may be. Although the Consultants agree that the restrictions on the Consultants activities in this Agreement are reasonable, given the nature and scope of the Company's business and the services of the Consultants engagement, the Consultants and the Company agree that in lieu of declaring the restrictions void, a court of competent jurisdiction will be requested by both parties to modify the restrictions to bring any of the restrictions within the "rule of reason" applicable to covenants not to compete, to the extent necessary under applicable law and to protect the legitimate interest of both the Company and the Consultants. The Consultants and the Company both expressly agree that (a) this Agreement is for the protection of the Confidential Information, assets, trade secrets, business practices and plans of the Company and that this Agreement is not to be construed as a restraint of trade; (b) this Agreement is not in violation of Title 15, Section 217 of the Oklahoma Statutes or similar statutes; and, the terms and conditions of this Agreement may be specifically enforced.

11. Entire Agreement. This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement of the parties and supersede any prior agreements between them with respect to the subject matter hereof.

12. Notices. Any notices required or made necessary by this Agreement shall be in writing and delivered by email, certified mail, or overnight courier to the below addresses.

13. Confidentiality. "Confidential Information" means information in any form, not generally known to the public, disclosed to or acquired by the Consultants directly or indirectly from the Company or any clients, customers, business partners or affiliates of the Company during the term hereof, including, without limitation:

- (i) information relating to the research, developments, systems, operations, clients, customers, and business activities and business plans and planning of the Company;
- (ii) information received from any clients, customers, business partners or Affiliates of the Company;
- (iii) information specifically designated by the Company as confidential; and,
- (iv) information relating to the Company's products, including software products, and all computer code relating to such products, and specifically to include all computer code disclosed to or developed by the Consultants during the term hereof;

The Consultants agree not, at any time, to disclose any Confidential Information to any person not an employee or recognized Consultants of the Company, nor will the Consultants use Confidential Information for any purpose other than as required to perform his services hereunder. Further, the Consultants agrees not, at any time, or in any way, to take or reproduce Confidential Information unless required by the Company for the Consultants to perform services hereunder. The Consultants will, upon the termination hereof, return to the Company all Confidential Information in his possession or under his control whether such Confidential Information.
